Meeting Minutes 6/4/2015

Meeting called to order by President Beverly Davis with 12 in attendance including Elena who is here for her summer visit. Beverly reminded us that we need to sign up for NW Conference if we haven't yet done so. There are still classes available.

Treasurer was not present so no report. Jean Reeves took minutes as Shelley was not in attendance.

We reviewed the DEMO calendar. Alice pointed out that the 4/2 minutes has the Oregon state fair in August and it is actually in September. The minutes were approved with this change noted.

Kellie Slack verified that the Renaissance Festival has been cancelled because the fair grounds will not allow camping. This change was noted on the DEMO schedule.

Beverly will get information for the Clackamas Fair by next meeting.

Alice needs to have attendees names and dates they will be at the Yamhill County Fair. Please let her know either via e-mail or at other events when you see her.

Picnic is at Marilyn Barnes' home at 4010 SE Filbert, Milwaukie, OR 97222. Bring your lawn chair and something good to eat.

Alice showed us the NW Conference Theme Quilt. One yellow square is waiting for a promised butterfly, but she has one ready to sew on if that one doesn't show up.

Meeting was adjourned and we had a good time just working on lace and visiting.

Respectfully submitted,
Jean Reeves

This issue is all about the NW Lace Conference. I have lots of pictures thanks to Joyce Clow and Elena Dickson. These are not all the pictures, but I ran out of pages, so we will do more next time.

Bev was at the registration table to welcome us with our packets and our names on the list and spelled correctly.

She also added a bit of whimsy in the form of the vegetable and fruit lace pillow.

Was that fun or what?

This and That

PLEASE NOTE: August 6th meeting place has been changed to Marilyn Barnes' yard. Bring a lawn chair to sit in and a dozen cookies to share.

Hot water for tea will be provided. Bring your cup and a bag of your favorite tea.

10:00 to 12:00 -
4101 SE Filbert, Milwaukie, OR 97222
503-659-9857

Sellwood Center is down for annual repairs. A big thank you to Marilyn for hosting our meeting.

It was handy to have a check-book.

Pauline kept us paid up and well balanced.

Besides classes we got goodies. This little guy was supposed to be a bookmark, but he does a great job of guarding my pillow. His tail even holds bobbins while they wait to be used again.

I like things that do double duty. I found the pin "picker-upper" with the flat magnet on the end also does a great job of pushing pins down.

Anyone else find more than one use for their goodies? Thanks a bunch to all who provided these useful things.

*NW Lace Conference
June 18-21, 2015
George Fox University, Newberg, OR*

Conference Recap by Jackie Nissen —

Kudos to Portland Lace Society. I think we can add the PNW Conference to another success!!

The conference consisted of 84 participants, 10 teachers, and many volunteers and was held at George Fox College, Newberg, OR from June 17-June 21, 2015.

What we did right

Our committee members were great, with a special thanks to the following:

*Beverly's registration was spotless, not a dot went unchecked. She contacted every single teacher and participant with information, printed nametags, handed out and collected keys, and so much more.

*Lynda's website was spectacular and the on-line registration worked great. She kept it updated, in spite of many, many changes in schedule.

*Alice's conference quilt, decorations, display room, and arranging banquet entertainment were wonderful. The rainbows and butterflies on the tables and in the quilt were beautiful so an additional thanks to all the lacemakers in the group that contributed.

*Pauline, our treasurer got all the bills paid and we might have a dollar or two profit.

*Christina's signs were invaluable, we agreed that next time we will have more signs on Saturday (or get some bread crumbs for visitors to find us). The beautiful knitted butterfly shawl was spectacular!!!

*Maria P, our resident vendor, had a good week and a nice space, though the room was cold.

*The goody bags were amazing and we had some really nice and useful items. So many of you helped to make the bags possible.

*"Straw draw" raffle was great fun and very profitable, thanks to Sandra for manning the table for three days during the conference so the rest of us could take classes. Many people stepped in to help on *Wednesday and Saturday, Sandra, Carol, Venessa, Shelley, LeAnn, Janet, Marilyn, Christina, Opal, Joyce, Sherri, Lynda, Pauline, Beverly, Alice and the list goes on....

*All the teachers were exceptional. I did not hear one complaint from any of the students (or anyone else for that matter).

*Jean Reeves for making and designing the really cute teacher rainbow bookmarks and Alice for putting together the teacher bags.

*Vendors loved the space on Saturday and everyone I talked to had a good day. Most asked to be invited back for the next one. I don't think they knew that it might not be for 10 years or so.

*Marilyn Charles donated six beautiful baskets for our Wednesday and Friday night raffles.

*George Fox was a nice venue with a flat, small campus. The food was good, for cafeteria fair. The lighting in the classrooms was good and there was only one other group on campus so it was quiet. Many thought the dorm was nice as they could leave their doors open and go around and visit. One drawback in using this dorm were the communal toilets.

*We had a large number of volunteer drivers taking teachers and attendees to and from the train and airport. With the conference in Newberg, it is expensive to get people to and from so I know that the riders really appreciated this service.

*The schedule worked out well. I got many comments about the fact that the attendees did not feel rushed and had time to visit with friends and work on lace.

*Last but far from least, I want to acknowledge my dear Dave, who has generously helped out with toting materials, helping to host guests, transportation, and so much more I cannot even begin to list!

There were a few hiccups, but nothing that was not remedied with plan B (or C in some cases)

Jackie still had time for a class. Here is her finished butterfly in Romanian Point Lace.

SOME TEACHER DISPLAYS

I'm missing pictures of the Romanian Point Lace Display. But, on the previous page is Jackie's finished project.

Thanks Sylvia for teaching. I'm still digging through more pictures, so may find yours for next time.

Roseground - Portland Lace Society

Making lace just seems to make everyone smile a lot.

Well, some of us had to think about it for while.

Sometimes it was winning that made us smile.

Lunch on campus was good.

Making lace in the sun was fun if you could find some shade.

Liz helped out her students on Saturday.

Joyce finished her class project. Would you believe it was a butterfly. Where did that idea come from???

I finished my Spania Dolina lace and put it on my t-shirt.

Be sure and send me pictures of all of your finished class projects (or any other lace you do) so I can put it in the newsletter. We like to see it all.

Classes were fun - Beds class here looks pretty serious.

Some projects got finished.

Everyone looks happy. Not all thread has to be on bobbins. Needles with and without holes in them work

Spania Dolina class was a lot of fun. We were in Maria's "store" so we didn't lack for any supplies even if we forgot something! Good plan.

Lynda had the advanced beginners class. Looks like they had a good time.

And some one on one instruction.

Sometimes we had time for fun and smiles

Sometimes it was serious work.

Almost over now. All we had to do was listen to some great guys singing, eat good food, do the last of the raffles and be back for a half-day on Sunday. Whew! I'm tired just remembering.
